and Evelyn Paff. Elizabeth attended grade school at Woodward and high school at Kalamazoo Central both in Kalamazoo, Michigan. While in school Elizabeth worked starting at the age of twelve. Later she worked for the public library as an assistant book binder and she also worked at an A&P grocery store at the same time. She also spent a short period of time studying at Western Michigan College (now known as Western Michigan University) in Kalamazoo, Michigan.

She was married to Ray Edwin Bartholomew on April 20,

Ray and Elizabeth Bartholomew

1957 in Kalamazoo, Michigan. Ray was born on May 28, 1929 in Spring Lake, Michigan. Ray's parents were Edwin William Bartholomew and Marjorie Page (Maiden name unknown.).

They had four children during their marriage. During her marriage to Ray Bartholomew, Elizabeth and family lived in Kalamazoo, Michigan, Benton Harbor, Michigan, Durant, Oklahoma and Galion, Ohio where Elizabeth now resides. While married to Ray she worked as a cashier at various grocery markets, was a seamstress and did baking and cake decorating commercially.

Elizabeth and Ray were divorced in October of 1985 and she later married Clair King Ketcham on June 18, 1988 in Bucyrus, Ohio. Clair was born on March 18, 1920 in Utica,
